

2024 FRONTIERS OF MSE UNDERGRADUATE SYMPOSIUM

October 25, 2024 | 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

The Symposium

Frontiers of MSE Undergraduate Symposium is a day-long research conference with complimentary meals at NC State University to recognize the top undergraduate researchers in materials science and engineering in the United States. Materials science and engineering researchers (and those in related fields) who are within two years of graduating are eligible to apply.

Participants

Attendees are invited to present research posters on Oct 25 at NC State University. Participants who present a poster will receive an application fee waiver for the MSE Ph.D. program. Attendees will receive valuable information on applying to graduate school and securing fellowships.

Don't miss this opportunity to showcase your research, network with peers, and gain insights into advancing your academic journey.

Application Deadline

Applications are due by September 27, 2024. Scan the QR code or visit go.ncsu.edu/mse-ug-symposium
